I. INTRODUCTION

[1] On September 18, 2012, the Director of Labour Standards (the “Director”) issued—pursuant to section 60 of The Labour Standards Act<sup>1</sup> (as amended) (the “LSA”)—Wage Assessment No. 5200<sup>2</sup> (the “Assessment”).

[2] The Assessment directed 101191387 Saskatchewan Ltd. <sup>o/a</sup> North West Ventures (“NW Ventures”) and Claude Hansen (“Hansen”) to pay six thousand nine hundred and eighty-one dollars and eighty-six cents ($6,981.86) to Lonnie Hanson (“LH”).

[3] On November 8, 2012, the Director filed a Certificate with the Registrar of the Court of Queen’s Bench at the Judicial Centre of Battleford, in effect making the six thousand nine hundred and eighty-one dollars and eighty-six cent ($6,981.86) sum owing as if it were the result of a judgment obtained in that Court.

[4] Effective April 29, 2014, The Saskatchewan Employment Act<sup>3</sup> (as amended) (the “SEA”) repealed the LSA<sup>4</sup> and effectively replaced section 60 of the LSA with section 2-74 of the SEA.

[5] NW Ventures and Hansen brought an application to the Court of Queen’s Bench seeking to set aside the Certificate. On May 8, 2014, the Court ordered<sup>5</sup> that:

- a) the Certificate and resulting judgment be set aside; and
- b) NW Ventures and Hansen may, within twenty-one (21) days of the decision, appeal the wage assessment.

II. PRELIMINARY MATTERS

[8] I convened this hearing at 10:00 a.m., the appointed time.

[9] Hansen was present in his personal capacity and as a representative of NW Ventures. Marcel Simonot, Q.C., appeared as counsel for both Hansen and North West Ventures and Hansen.

[10] Dale Schmidt, Employment Standards Officer, was present. He advised he represented LH. However, LH was not present.

[11] Mr. Schmidt searched the premises at which the hearing was taking place. He could not locate LH. Mr. Schmidt advised that:

- a) the Labour Standards Branch had advised LH of the place and date of this hearing;
- b) he expected LH to attend the hearing;
- c) LH did not advise he would not be attending the hearing; and
- d) he had no explanation for LH’s failure to attend this hearing.

[12] Mr. Simonot took the position that the hearing should proceed. He argued that it would be unfair to put his client to any additional cost that would result from adjourning and rescheduling the hearing.

[13] Mr. Schmidt did not did not ask for an adjournment and did not object to the hearing proceeding.

[14] I decided to proceed with the hearing in the absence of LH.

[15] There were no preliminary objections on constitutional or jurisdictional grounds.

III. FACTS

[16] On or about December 2011, NW Ventures entered into a contract (the “Contract”) with Kitsaki Management Limited Partnership (“KMLP”) to clear-cutting trees and shrubs—fourteen kilometres (14 km) of right-of-way to a width of eighty metres (80 m) for a new power line approximately twelve kilometres (12 km) East of Key Lake, Saskatchewan. The Lac La Ronge Indian Band owns KMLP.

[17] The contract required NW Ventures to:

- a) hire between twenty (20) and thirty (30) people; and
- b) build a camp (the “Camp”) with living accommodations, offices and a kitchen.

[18] NW Ventures hired LH as one of the employees to work on the Contract. LH, along with a number of other men, moved into the Camp on or about January 9, 2012.

[19] Some of the men were cutters; others were pickers behind. There were fourteen (14) to fifteen (15) saws at the Camp with one (1) or two (2) spares (the “Saws”). LH’s job was to maintain the Saws. That would mostly entail cleaning the chainsaws and changing their chains.

[20] Actual clearing work did not commence until on or about January 26, 2012. The daily work regimen was largely governed by the weather and times of daylight. The men would wake up at 7:30 a.m., have breakfast and then, between 8:30 a.m. and 9:00 a.m., be transported by snowmobiles to their actual work site. Their work day would end between 4:30 p.m. and 5:00 p.m.

[21] If it was too cold or windy, the men did not work that day. During the time LH was in the employ of NW Ventures, he missed seven (7) days of work because of bad weather.

[22] When working, the men took dinner breaks of one (1) to one and one-half (1½) hours. NW Ventures delivered their lunches to the actual work site.

[24] LH remained in NW Ventures' employ until February 22, 2012. At that time, NW Ventures says it fired LH for cause. On termination, LH filed a complaint with the Labour Standards Branch in which he claimed that between January 9 and February 22, 2012, he had worked the following hours:<sup>7</sup>

Feb. 22/12	7:30 a.m. - 2:30 a.m.

[25] No evidence was presented that explained what these hours translated to. However, the Fiat of Mr. Justice Scherman summarized it as follows:<sup>8</sup>

A Labour Standards officer's worksheet (prepared from the employee's records) showed Hansen to have worked every day between January 9 and Feb 22, 2012, with the exception of February 1, 2 and 3, and claimed a total of 264 regular hours and 305.5 overtime hours worked. Based on this 6-week 4-day employment period, this equated to a claim of some 46.15 overtime hours per week.

[28] Hansen says

- a) NW Ventures and Hansen never authorized LH to do any overtime work;
- b) LH at no time did any overtime work;
- c) LH at no time was at the service of NW Ventures after his regular work hours at NW

Venture's request;

- d) because of the type of work done by LH and the rise and setting of the sun during the time period that he worked, it was impossible or at least most difficult for him to be in NW Ventures' employ for an average of approximately 17 hours a day; and
- e) no other NW Ventures' employees—working during the same time period and on the same project—worked overtime or made any claim to NW Ventures or the Labour Standards Branch for overtime payment.

[29] Bouchard worked for NW Ventures at the Camp during the same time as LH. He corroborates that:

- a) because of the type of work done by LH and the rise and setting of the sun during the time period that he worked, it was impossible or at least most difficult for him to be in NW Ventures' employ for an average of approximately 17 hours a day;
- b) LH at no time did any overtime work; and
- c) no other NW Ventures' employees—working during the same time period and on the same project—worked overtime.

[30] Bouchard also testified that it was not possible for LH to work after the men came back to camp. All chainsaws were stored in the power plant. This was because the plant was not only warm, but it shielded the smell from the chainsaws permeating the worker's living quarters. There was no place to work on the chainsaws in the power plant. It would have been too smelly, noisy and disruptive to be working at other places in the camp.

[31] Hansen testified that NW Ventures paid LH one hundred and fifty dollars ($150.00) per day. In Cross Examination, Hansen was presented with employee pay stubs<sup>9</sup> (the “Stubs”) that showed LH to be paid at various hourly rates. Hansen explained:

- a) he kept track of the days LH worked;
- b) he provided that information to his wife, who in turn, provided it to their accountants, United Tax Service Ltd. in Meadow Lake, Saskatchewan;
- c) it was the accountants that prepared the Stubs; and
- d) he is not privy to the reason for the conversion.

[32] Hanson says LH worked thirty-one (31) days. If one multiplies this number of days by eight (8), this gives two hundred and forty-eight (248) hours, which coincides with the hours reflected in the Stubs.

IV. DISPUTE

[33] It is important to note LH did not lodge any complaint with respect to his dismissal.

[34] The issue here is the amount LH is entitled to for regular wages, overtime and holiday pay.

V. DECISION

[35] I find that LH worked thirty-one (31) days. Consequently, I rule that he was entitled to be paid:

- a) four thousand six hundred and fifty dollars ($4,650.00) for regular wages;

- b) two hundred and sixty-eight dollars and twenty-seven cents ($268.27) for holiday pay; and
- c) two hundred and twenty-five dollars ($225.00) for working Family Day (February 20, 2012); for a total of five thousand one hundred and forty-three dollars and twenty-seven cents ($5,143.27).

[36] NW Ventures paid LH four thousand five hundred and ninety-four dollars and twenty-one cents ($4,594.21). I further rule NW Ventures and Hansen must pay five hundred and forty-nine dollars and six cents ($549.06) to LH.

[37] The appeal is partially allowed. I vary the Assessment to reflect that the amount of five hundred and forty-nine dollars and six cents ($549.06) is owing to LH.

[38] In light of not only the substantial amount of time that has passed, but also the significant variation of the Assessment, I decline to order the payment of any interest on the sum owing.

VI. REASONS

A. ACT & REGULATIONS

[39] The relevant provisions of the LSA, with the corresponding provisions of the SEA are as follows:

- 4 Where the employee is paid his wages on a basis other than an hourly, daily, weekly or monthly basis, the hourly wage of the employee shall be determined in accordance with the regulations.

Meaning of "permit any employee to work"

8 Where an employer has knowledge that an employee is working and he does not cause him to stop working, he shall be deemed to have permitted such an employee to work within the meaning of the expression "permit any employee to work" as used in sections 6 and 7.

(2) Where an employee refuses to work or to be at the disposal of an employer contrary to the employer's requirement made under subsection (1) and where no emergency circumstances exist, no disciplinary action shall be taken against the employee by the employer.

(3) In any prosecution alleging a violation of this section, the onus shall be upon the employer to prove that an emergency existed or that the employee was discriminated against for good and sufficient other reason.

(3) Notwithstanding subsections (1) and (2), an establishment or class of establishments may be exempted from any of the provisions of this section by the regulations.

(4) Where the director is satisfied that subsections (1) and (2) would work a hardship on an employer or any class of employers or any of his employees, the director may grant a permit exempting the employer or class of employers from the provisions of subsection (1) or (2), upon any terms and conditions that he considers advisable.

(5) The director may at any time cancel any exemption made pursuant to subsection (4).

Required period of rest

2-13(1) Subject to subsection (2), no employer shall require or permit an employee to work or to be at the employer's disposal for periods that are scheduled so that the employee does not have a period of eight consecutive hours of rest in any day.

(6) On receipt of a written application from an employer and the employees or a representative of the employees, the director of employment standards may:

- (b) impose any conditions that the director considers appropriate on the written authorization issued pursuant to clause (a).

Meal breaks

13.3(1) An employer shall grant to each employee who works six hours or more an unpaid meal break of at least 30 minutes within every five consecutive hours of work except:

(2) Where it is necessary for medical reasons, an individual employee is entitled to take a meal break at a time or times other than the time specified in subsection (1).

(3) Where an employee has worked five hours and the employer is not required to grant a meal break to an employee, the employer shall permit the employee to eat while working.

Meal breaks

2-14(1) Subject to subsections (2) and (4), an employer shall provide to an employee an unpaid meal break that is of at least 30 minutes' duration within every five consecutive hours of work.

(2) An employer is not required to grant a meal break pursuant to subsection (1):

- (a) in unexpected, unusual or emergency circumstances; or
- (b) if it is not reasonable for an employee to take a meal break.

(3) If the employer does not grant the meal break mentioned in subsection (1) and the employee works five or more consecutive hours, the employer shall permit an employee to eat while working.

(4) An employer shall provide to an employee an unpaid meal break at a time or times necessary for medical reasons.

Overtime pay

2-17(1) An employer shall pay an employee overtime pay for each hour or part of an hour in which the employee is required or permitted to work or to be at the employer's disposal that exceeds the hours determined in accordance with sections 2-18, 2-19 and 2-20.

(2) When calculating overtime pay, an employer:

(i) notice of the meal break is given in accordance with section 2-11; and

(ii) the employee is not at the disposal of the employer during the meal break;

(b) shall not take into account any time the employee works or is at the employer's disposal on a public holiday;

(c) shall reduce the time when overtime is payable by eight hours for each public holiday occurring in a week; and

(d) shall pay to the employee the greater of:

(i) the total of overtime pay required pursuant to this Subdivision that is calculated on a daily basis; and

(ii) the total of overtime pay required pursuant to this Subdivision that is calculated on a weekly basis.

Overtime pay after eight hours and 40 hours

2-18(1) Unless an employee is working in accordance with a modified work arrangement or in accordance with an averaging authorization that satisfies the requirements of section 2-20, an employer shall pay the employee overtime for each hour or part of an hour in which the employer requires or permits the employee to work or to be at the employer's disposal for more than:

(a) 40 hours in a week; or

(b) either of:

(i) eight hours in a day if the employer schedules the employee's work in accordance with clause (2)(a); or

(ii) 10 hours in a day if the employer schedules the employee's work in accordance with clause (2)(b).

(b) 10 hours in a day for no more than four days in a week.

(3) Notwithstanding section 2-7 or subsections (1) and (2), in the prescribed circumstances and subject to the prescribed conditions, an employer and an employee may agree that the employee may bank overtime hours.

(4) Notwithstanding section 2-17, subsection (1) of this section and section 2-19, but subject to subsection (5), an employer shall pay an employee overtime if:

(a) the employee works, on average, fewer than 30 hours per week; and

(b) the employer requires or permits the employee to work or to be at the employer's disposal for more than eight hours in a day.

(5) If employees have a union as their bargaining agent and the employer and the union have agreed respecting the number of hours in a day or week that are to be worked before overtime is paid:

(a) subsection (4) does not apply to those employees; and

B. ANALYSIS

[40] I have set out the various provisions of the LSA and SEA that relate to the matters at issue herein. I am satisfied that both my analysis and conclusions in this matter would be the same, regardless of which legislation applies.

[41] I start by addressing the question of the number of hours LH worked. In so doing, it bears note that LH did not appear at the hearing. His presence and testimony would have helped explain the information the Labour Standards Branch had to deal with. I draw an adverse inference from his absence.

[42] The evidence of Hansen and Bouchard was clear and consistent. Matters such as daylight, weather and camp setup make it impossible or at least most difficult for LH to be in NW Ventures' employ for more than an average of eight (8) hours a day. This alone makes LH's reported working time suspect. In summation and argument, Mr. Schmidt agreed. I do not believe the numbers. I find as a fact that LH worked no more than eight (8) hours in any given day.

[43] LH's notes suggest he worked forty-two (42) of forty-five (45) days at camp. The evidence of Hanson was that LH worked thirty-one (31) days and never more than forty (40) hours in any given week. I find that evidence to be credible. I find as a fact LH worked thirty-one (31) days and never more than forty (40) hours in any given week.

[44] The evidence of Hanson was that LH's wage was one hundred and fifty dollars ($150.00) per day. I find that evidence to be credible. I find as a fact LH earned a total of four thousand six hundred and fifty dollars ($4,650.00). That would entitle him to an additional two hundred and sixty-eight dollars and twenty-seven cents ($268.27) for holiday pay.

[45] It appeared from the evidence that one of the days LH worked was a public holiday—Family Day, February 20, 2012. LH is therefore entitled to an additional two hundred and twenty-five dollars ($225.00).

[46] In total, then, LH was entitled to be paid five thousand one hundred and forty-three dollars and twenty-seven cents ($5,143.27). The evidence indicated NW Ventures paid LH four thousand five hundred and ninety-four dollars and twenty-one cents ($4,594.21). I therefore find NW Ventures and Hansen must pay five hundred and forty-nine dollars and six cents ($549.06) to LH.
